DOUBLE PLAN DISASTROUS

Plunkett Suggests Way to Settle Irish Question.

Dublin, May 7.—Declaring that the government's conscription-home rule policy is disastrous. Sir Horace Plunkett, chairman of the recent Irish convention, in a letter to the press suggests the immediate establishment of a responsible government in Ireland as a way out of the difficulty.

"At the gravest crisis with which the empire has ever faced," says the letter, "the government has staked letter, "the government has staked their existence on a twofold Irish poltheir existence on a twofold Irish pol-icy-conscription and home rule. They cannot achieve both except at the cost of much present bloodshed and lasting hate. They might achieve the first, and by it make the accord possible, In my opinion they would fail in the attempt and have to go on leaving both undone. Their successors then would have to find a way out of the worst Irish situation in my memory.

which goes back to the Fenian days, which goes back to the Fenian days, nity years ago."

Asserting his opinion that it is possible even now to achieve the double purpose, Sir Horace says further:

"I believe the government could not only satisfy the reasonable aspirations of the Irish at home, but also get them to follow voluntarily the instincts of the chivalrous race and the example of their kinsmen and sympathizers, throughout the United States and the British dominions. There is only one alternative to the disastrous policy upon which the government has embarked, namely, to set up immediately a responsible government in Ireland.

"The report of the convention has shown this could be done with the support of a large body of nationalist and unionist opposition. They should and unionist opposition. They should pass through parliament the necessary legislation, as a war measure. The present chaos, with its growing bitterness, its utter demoralization of our public life and its discredit to British statesmanship need not be continued statesmanship need not be continued while we are waiting for parfiament. The moment the bill is passed, an Irish executive body, composed of responsible men who will not shirk the burden of their brief authority, should be appointed and given the task of setting up a parliament as quickly as possible, promoting voluntarily recruiting and generally carrying on. The Irish people, given their own instru In and generally carrying on. The Irish people, given their own instrument of government, would quickly show the world their real attitude in this war. It may then dawn upon Englishmen that we have in Ireland no programs except those they have made, not of malice, but through inability to understand us."

Charged With Espionage.

New Orleans, May 7.—Philip I. Adam, Robert M. Adam, Hans Forscheimer and Ernest Albrecht, wealthy New Orleans lumbermen, arrested March 9 for alleged violation of the espionage act, Monday night left Jackson Barracks, accompanied by federal officers, for Fort Oglethorpe, Ga., where they will be held for the duration of the war. The men are registered as enemy aliens.

The men were accused of having communicated with Germany by means of lumber trade codes. Refore the war they were regarded as among the largest lumber importers and exporters in the south. Details connected with the arrest and investigations immediately following the arrests have been carefully guarded by the federal authorities.
